Preparing for a Site Visit

- Make sure you read the application thoroughly before the visit
- Prepare questions in advance and don't hesitate to ask questions even if they are not part of the application
- Try and be as consistent as you can with questions asked of each reviewed organization
- Coordinating, creating and hosting zoom

Site Visits

- A minimum of three people MUST be at any site visit, but we prefer that as many of your panel members attend each visit as possible
- You may accept additional information from the organizations that may help with your decision-making process
- One benefit of virtual site visits is that location of the organization does not matter this year
