Consistent funding to address current needs of the community

Evaluation process leads to awards based on identified community needs and relative merit of the proposals received

Made possible by an endowment that was seeded by the Augusta National Golf Club and now includes annual gifts from multiple donors and funds.

Who is Eligible to Apply?

501(c)(3)

6 County Focus:
Aiken, Burke,
Columbia, Edgefield,
McDuffie & Richmond

One Application per year per 501(c)3
organization

May I Apply as a New 501(c)3 Organization or a Nonprofit that is new to the Community Foundation?

YES!

- We will consider a start-up (less than 3 years of operations)
- We will consider funding Nonprofits that do not already have a relationship with the Community Foundation
- To be considered, a start-up or new nonprofit can't duplicate services already provided in your service area unless an unmet need can be documented
- Reviewed on a case-by-case basis for such things as:
 - Addresses a significant, measurable need
 - Organization can effectively address the need
 - Organization's likelihood of achieving outcomes
 - Organization has plans to ensure its long-term viability
 - Organization has demonstrated they have spoken to and are working with other community partners

NOTE: All first-time applicants MUST complete their application by the EARLY DEADLINE of July 15th at 12 PM

What is the Range of Grant Amounts?

- ❖ No minimum
- ❖ Request cannot exceed $15,000

Community panel volunteers review applications, perform site visits, and rank applicants from 5 to 1, with 5 being the highest. Typically, a 5 will get the total amount requested. Based on the amount of funds remaining, the 4th ranked agency will receive a percentage of funds requested.

In What Areas Do You Fund?

Arts/Culture/History

Recognizing the positive impact art, cultural and historical organizations have on a community, we welcome high-quality applications in this area.

Education/Youth Enrichment

We welcome applications from organizations that provide enrichment and educational opportunities to disadvantaged children, youth and adults. Examples include: job skills training and/or placement, after school or summer programs, leadership mentoring, tutoring, GED and literacy programs.

In What Areas Do You Fund? (cont'd)

Health/Environmental

Some examples of programs in this funding area include: environmental research or management, animal services, programs that support sustainable community and backyard gardens, medical clinics, drug rehabilitation programs and medical programs for persons with disabilities or mental illness.

People in Need

This category is generally, but not exclusively, for human service programs that work with people in need. Examples include: feeding, housing, financial assistance, programs serving the homeless and programs for recently incarcerated individuals.

What Don't You Fund?

- ❖ Grants to individuals
- ❖ Capital Campaigns
- ❖ Deficit financing and debt retirement
- ❖ Endowments
- ❖ Political Organizations or campaigns
- ❖ Lobbying legislators or influencing elections
- ❖ Marketing as the entirety of your grant request
- ❖ Special fundraising events/celebrations
- ❖ Regranting
- ❖ Personal research
- ❖ Programs requiring faith-based participation
- ❖ Projects that are typically the funding responsibility of the government
- ❖ Scholarships to schools, colleges or universities outside of our six-county region
- ❖ Programs that have already taken place or will be completed in the current calendar year

Problem Areas That We've Seen

- ❖ Help Notes throughout the application – pay attention to them
- ❖ Project Description – this is your gateway to tell why your grant is important
- ❖ Budget Table – take your time, follow directions, ask questions if needed
- ❖ Outcomes – Use all three steps
- ❖ Partnerships – It is never good to put N/A
- ❖ Organizational Profile – Remember to check your organizational information each time you complete a new grant. Make corrections when needed to contacts (contact us for this), addresses and other permanent information on a regular basis.
- ❖ Feedback – early review feedback; post-process feedback

What Should I Emphasize?

Strong applications will need to tell the story of your organization and the importance of your mission to the community to include:

- ❖ Impact on persons/the community
- ❖ Develop competencies and skills in an individual
- ❖ Address a demonstratable, significant need
- ❖ Leverage other funding
- ❖ How you partner with other agencies
- ❖ Demonstrate capacity to provide services
- ❖ Demonstrate support from volunteers and in-kind resources
- ❖ Promote systems or approaches that can prevent or solve problems

Be sure that your response to the questions above reflect the six-county service area

Questions?

Early Review Option

Community Foundation staff will review your application and provide feedback.

DO NOT SUBMIT AN INCOMPLETE APPLICATION!

Submit the application as if you were submitting it for the final deadline.

Ensure you upload correct attachments in the appropriate fields

NOTE: When you receive staff feedback, please make suggested changes to your application. Not doing so may keep your application from moving through to a panel sight visit

NOTE: Your application will only be returned to you if changes are needed. Do not submit an early application assuming you can make changes later. If staff deems that no changes are needed, you will be notified that your application will move on to the next phase.

NOTE: If the application is released back to you for corrections it will appear in your organizational profile in a “draft” state. Once you’ve made changes you will need to resubmit the application before the final deadline.

Finalizing Your Application

You may save and return to your application at any time

The person who can answer questions about your application and will organize your site visit should be the contact person for your application.

Ensure you upload correct attachments in the appropriate fields

PUSH SUBMIT! If you submit for the early deadline, make sure you re-submit before the final deadline

BEST PRACTICE: Have another person proof your application before pressing submit

On our website, you will also find:

- Grant Seeker Guidelines
- Help on how to create budgets and write outcomes
- How to prepare for a site visit

Is a Site Visit Really Important?

A compelling grant is not enough to secure funding. Most, if not all, of the grants we receive, deserve consideration for funding.

The site visit is an opportunity to secure your organization's chance to receive funding. Prepare for this visit with that thought in mind, and “sell” your grant proposal and organization to your panel!

BEST PRACTICE: Make sure the person who wrote the grant preps those who will be present at the site visit. A best practice would be for that person to also attend.

Not all applicants receive a site visit. To receive a site visit, an applicant must submit a complete application with correct financials, budgets, and other supporting documents as requested in the application by the deadline. The request must meet standards as outlined in the granting guidelines.

NOTE: Staff may not recommend your grant for a site visit, even if this basic criteria was met, if staff feels you did not adequately make your case for funding consideration.

Augusta National Golf Club Employee Giving Process

The Augusta National Golf Club partners with the Community Foundation to provide its employees with a list of local nonprofit organizations each year.

Organizations that apply for a Community Grant and make it through the initial phases of the application and receive a site visit are the organizations that appear on the Employee Giving list each year.

ANGC shares the list of organizations with their staff who can select which organization(s) they would like to designate funding to.

Since the Community Grants Program is an annual program, the organizations that appear on the Employee Giving List each year will change based on which organizations apply and make it through the initial phases of the application process.

Why Are You Doing Youth Panels?

Why we feel it's important

We are growing future volunteers, philanthropists, fellow citizens who know and care about our community.

Accountability

The adult chair walks with the youth throughout the entire process and makes sure they understand the importance of their role.

Knowledge

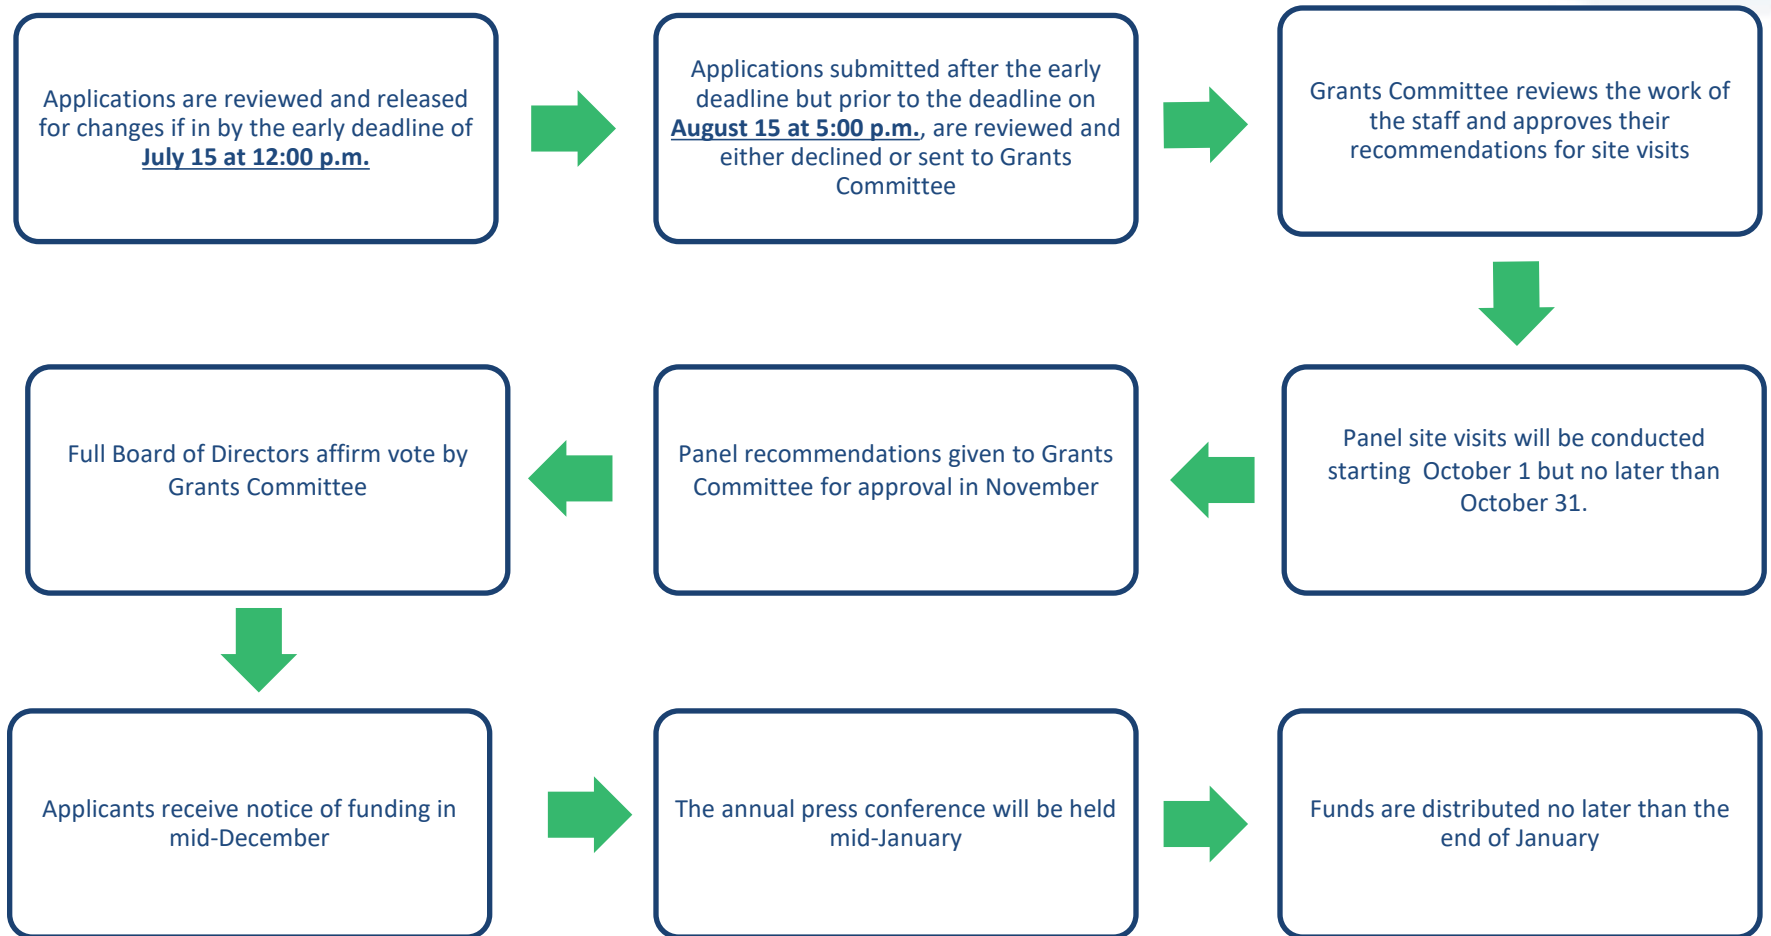

The youth volunteers go through a specialized training with their Panel Chair. They, like adult panels, read your applications, attend site visits and take part in a group discussion on why they recommend specific organizations for funding.

BEST PRACTICE: Treat your youth panel with the same respect you would show to any other panel.

If Funded, are there Reporting Requirements?

- ❖ If your grant application is for a summer-only program that is completed by the time the new school year begins, or is for a single item purchase, AND you have met all your outcomes, you will not be required to complete a mid-year report, you will only do a final report
- ❖ Stories Matter – when doing your reports we want to know lives were impacted. Tell us your stories and share quality photos
- ❖ All agreements and reports will be done through the Grants Portal. Please observe posted deadlines. You will receive a reminder 14 days before any follow-up report is due. If you are a current grantee, your final report must be complete and submitted prior to disbursement of new grant dollars (which may be before the noted deadline).
- ❖ Submit a mid-year report by July 15, 2026
- ❖ Submit a final year-end report by January 15, 2027

What is the Award Process?

What are the Deadlines?

- ❖ Application opens on July 1 and will be accepted through August 15
- ❖ BEST PRACTICE: The Early Deadline for review with feedback is July 15 at 12:00 pm
- ❖ NEW: 1st time applicants MUST submit by the Early Deadline
- ❖ The Final Deadline is August 15 at 5:00 pm. No exceptions.

Community Foundation 2025 Community Grants Program

The Community Foundation for the CSRA's Community Grants Program is made possible through the generosity of the Masters and individual donors. These grants are distributed through a highly competitive process designed to help nonprofit organizations meet needs within a six-county area. Through a careful review process, our staff, community volunteer panels, and board work together to award grants based on identified community issues and the relative merit of the proposals received.
